The Structure of Oxford's Education

In the eighteenth century, Oxford's educational system was predominantly classical, emphasizing the study of Latin, Greek, rhetoric, logic, and philosophy. The curriculum was designed to prepare students for careers in clergy, law, or public service, with a strong focus on the liberal arts tradition. The university's academic structure was hierarchical, with students progressing through various degrees—bachelor's, master's, and doctorate—each requiring examinations and demonstrations of scholarly competence.
